

POWER & UTILITIES

FTI provides manufacturing and engineering support to the energy and power generation developers, as well as transition plating for power lines, to reduce both cost and risk in the fabrication process. FTI's knowledge in energy and power generation programs has evolved from our extensive experience in fabrication, machining and integration of complex systems. FTI works closely with federal, state and local government to support renewable energy technology providers.

Line Towers

Equipment Enclosures

Line Base Plates

Steel Grating

Large Structures

Photo Gallery

